Wild in Wenatchee

First-year team celebrates first sellout with win

Wenatchee is certainly wild about its hockey. Just ask the sellout crowd of 4,277 who watched their team take down the West Division-leading Fairbanks Ice Dogs on Saturday, 5-2.

"It was absolutely electric in the rink from start to finish," said Wild head coach Paul Baxter. "The energy our fans bring to our players has been a huge factor in our team's success."

In the victory, which completed a twogame sweep over the Ice Dogs, Adam McKenzie connected for a goal and three assists, including one on Michael Voran's game-winning marker, and Cam Severson added a pair of goals. Between the pipes, Mac Carruth made 36 saves.

For the expansion Wild, which leads the NAHL in both total (63,700) and average attendance (2,548) through 25 games, celebrating its first packed house in team history was a gratifying moment.

"It was amazing," said Wild president Bill Stewart. "We've had good crowds all season, but it was nice to finally have an official sellout."

The Wenatchee Valley Medical Center, Saturday's game-night sponsor, brought over 800 people to Town Toyota Center for the contest. Plenty of group sales also contributed to the success at the turnstiles.

"Our sales staff did an incredible job bringing in groups for the game," Stewart added. "We had close to 2,000 group tickets sold, and the Wenatchee Valley Medical Center certainly showed its support and we thank them for that."

What's more, the Wild presented a check for $25,000 to the Mike Utley Foundation that night. In less than a year, the NAHL club has already helped raise over $100,000 for local churches, schools, outreach programs and other non-profit organizations.

"Bill and the entire staff have put together an excellent game production and script that's second to none in junior hockey," praised Baxter. "Combine that with a successful on-ice product and our loyal fans' exceptional support and it's a thrilling night for hockey every night the puck is dropped at the TTC."

The night prior, Nic Dowd's overtime goal lifted the Wild to a 3-2 triumph. Duncan McKellar (goal, assist), Brandon Burrell (goal, assist) and Junior Cadiz (two assists) all registered two-point nights, and goaltender Mathieu Dugas turned aside 22 shots.

In second place in the West with 56 points, the Wild has rattled off six straight wins while posting an impressive 10-2 mark in February. The sweep over the Ice Dogs solidified the team's second-place position in the standings, guaranteeing it home-ice advantage in the first round of the Robertson Cup Playoffs.

"Over the last two months, we've gotten solid performances from many of our primary offensive scorers as well as our secondary scorers," said Baxter, whose team is assembling one of the best records in history for an NAHL expansion team.

Baxter also credits Wild associate head coach Ryan McKelvie, who has played a key role in the team's skill development and conditioning, and goaltending coach Chris Clark for much of the club's season-long promise.
